

ADDENDUM TO THE PAPER LANDCARE: NEW DIRECTIONS IN PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT FOR ENVIRONMENTAL EDUCATION

During 1994-1995, we received correspondence from Tania Sadler of the University of Tasmania and from Debbie Heck, about the latter's paper published in volume 14. In response we publish the following addendum, which includes a list of references inadvertently left out of her paper. Ms Heck did supply these references to the SAJEE originally, and we apologise for any inconvenience to readers as a result of the mistake. (Ed.)

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The Lend the Land a Hand: Landcare Vacation School offered at Griffith University in 1994 was developed over a number of years with input from a team of people from Universities and the Department of Primary Industries. A trial programme was conducted in 1993 at Griffith University by Dr Tania Stadler from the University of Tasmania along with Dr John Fien from Griffith University, Ms Melva Hobson and Mr Ken Keith from the Queensland Department of Primary Industries. Dr Stadler has been involved in Landcare professional development programs for teachers in Tasmania since 1990. The University of Tasmania now offers a range of Landcare summer school programmes for teachers.

The Lend the Land a Hand: Landcare Vacation School at Griffith University was further developed by Dr John Fien, Ms Debbie Heck and Ms Melva Hobson and offered as an accredited Master of Environmental Education subject in 1994. The purpose of the paper was to outline and critique the vacation school offered to participants in 1994 at Griffith University as an example of professional development for environmental education.

REFERENCES

- Anon. 1992. Decade of Landcare Plan. Department of Primary Industries, Queensland.
- Bowden, J. 1993. A literature review of Landcare in Australia, 1989-1993: With specific reference to Queensland. Diploma in Natural Resources project. University of New England, Armidale.
- Crawley, S., Brown, D. & Markey, L. 1993. The Landcare movement in the Taroom Shire: The synergy of working together. Unpublished paper presented at Gearing up for the Future Extension Conference, Rockhampton, 9-11.
- Fien, J. 1994. Critical theory, critical pedagogy and critical praxis in environmental education. In Jensen, B.B. & Schnack, K. (Eds). Action and Action Competence as Key Concepts in Critical Pedagogy. Royal Danish School of Educational Studies, Copenhagen.
- Forge, K.M. (Comp.) 1993. Pasture Watch. Department of Primary Industries, Queensland.
- Jensen, B.B. 1993. The concepts of action and action: Competence. Unpublished Paper presented at First International Conference on Project 'Children as Catalysts of Global Environmental Change', Guildford.
- Jensen, B.B. 1994. Action competence as an educational challenge. In Jensen, B.B. & Schnack, K. (Eds). Action and Action Competence as Key Concepts in Critical Pedagogy. Royal Danish School of Educational Studies, Copenhagen.
- Griffith University. 1994. Lend the Land a Hand: Landcare Vacation School Course Outline. Griffith University, Brisbane.
- Roberts, B. 1992. Landcare Manual. New South Wales University Press, Kensington.
- Roberts, B. 1994. The evolution of an Australian land ethic and the Landcare movement. In Keg,

M. (Ed.). Communities Education & Sustainability: Perspectives from Thailand and Australia. Australian National University, Canberra.

Robottom, I. 1987. Two paradigms of professional development in environmental education. The Environmentalist, 7, 291-298.

Stevenson, R. 1987. Schooling and environmental education: Contradictions in purpose and practice. In Robottom, I. (Ed.). Environmental Education: Practice and Possibility. Deakin University, Geelong.

UNESCO-UNEP. 1978. The Tbilisi declaration. Connect, 3(1),1-8.

THIS JOURNAL IS SPONSORED BY

GOLD FIELDS

Compiled at Murray & Roberts Chair of Environmental Education, Department of Education, Rhodes University, Grahamstown, South Africa